

Delaware Military Heritage & Education Foundation and Nenagh Films present:

VOICES OF WAR: DELAWAREANS IN WORLD WAR II

Theater N, Wilmington
November 10

10:00 AM, student/schools screening
5:30 PM, public reception
6:00 PM, public viewing

In honor of Veteran's Day, join the DMHEF for a special screening of Voices of War, the documentary by T. J. Healy about the experiences of Delaware servicemen and women during WW II. Based on more than 400 oral histories gathered by the Commission of Veterans Affairs, this documentary explores the personal stories of men and women from all service branches, including those who faced combat in the Pacific and in Europe and those who supported wartime efforts on the home front. Share the history of the "Greatest Generation" and learn more about this facet of Delaware's rich past.

Produced by Nenagh Films and Black Sheep Production Co., written by Alison mackenzie and Michael E. Harkins.

SPECIAL THANKS TO:
THE CITY OF WILMINGTON
BUCCINI POLLIN GROUP